

7th International Conference and Exhibition on

September 28-30, 2016 Orlando, USA

NIT Raipur, India

A large number of transition metal complexes have been used as cleavage agents of DNA and also for novel potential DNA-targeted antitumor drugs. This is essential for further expected applications in many areas like biological gene regulators