

Labor Contractions in Pregnancy

Siri Muppidi*

Department of Pharmacology, Gokaraju Rangaraju College of Pharmacy, Hyderabad, India

Commentary

Labor also termed as childbirth is the interaction of your infant leaving the uterus (belly). In the process of giving birth person may have ordinary contractions that causes cervix to change. Contractions are the point at which the muscles of your uterus get tight and afterward unwind.