

Lifestyle factors and their effect on liver and lipid status- cross sectional study
Rabbanie Tariq Wani

Abstract: Adopting a healthy lifestyle is associated with improvised life expectancy. The modifiable lifestyle-related risk factors are hazardous alcohol drinking, smoking, excess body weight and lack of physical activity. Our aim was to estimate the