

Jacquelyn R. Jhingree

Department of Analytical Chemistry, Medicago R and D, Quebec City, Canada

Keywords: COVID-19, Mass spectrometry, diagnostics, characterization, Spike Protein, SARS-CoV-2.

Short communication

Established methods in mass spectrometry (MS) used in the characterization of virus structure and, protein-based vaccines and therapeutics which target viral infections include peptide mapping [1], glycan profiling (site localization, composition[1]),

