

Humanising Care, Health and Wellbeing conference

ABSTRACT BOOK

Bournemouth University
21st -22nd June 2018

Welcome to the Humanising Care, Health and Wellbeing conference

This is our fourth conference and we are growing year by year. We had such a response from our two day conference last year and I am really looking forward to seeing how we take things forward this year.

We invited external presenters for the first time last year and the message was that we need to spread this year we have contributions from a larger number of Universities and from outside the UK. It is wonderful to see that attracted such high quality contributions.

In this booklet abstracts are presented in alphabetical order by the surname of the corresponding author

At this conference we share and celebrate work in education, practice and research of which are equally valued.

Although the presenters are speaking about different educational, clinical or social areas I am sure you will find resonance with your own interests because what we share is a commitment to work and understanding where the lifeworld, subjective experience and Being Human are privileged.

These two days will provide a space to share, reflect, learn, laugh and celebrate.

Have a wonderful time at the conference !
